Pebble Black

Edenex decking brings two wonderful materials wood and PVC together to produce a product that has the best features of both for todays lifestyle. Edenex decking has the natural, warm feel of wood and all the best features of PVC for todays lifestyle including durability, low maintenance (treating not required), textured slip-resistant surface, splinter-free, will not split, and resistance to insects. Warm as wood, solid as a rock.

Edenex decking is the latest innovation from the company that has placed continuous innovation at its core Freefoam. Due to its many unique benefits, this revolutionary product is the product of choice for decking.

Benefits of PVC based wood plastic composites

PVC based wood plastic composites have significant benefits over wood plastic composites based on other plastic materials as outlined below:

- Substantially higher strength.
- Substantially higher rigidity making it less subject to bending under load.
- Does not support fire.
